For exceptionally distinguished work and devotion to duty in JAVA between 18 Feb 42 and 9 Mar 42. This officer at very short notice was assigned the task of organizing and establishing a General Hospital for the Allied Forces in JAVA. There was at the outset very little equipment and the personnel and staff of the hospital had to be got together from different small medical units in JAVA. By his efficiency and energy he managed as a result of herculean efforts to get the hospital established in working order by the time the Japanese invaded JAVA. By his tact he succeeded in welding the hospital staff into a composite whole. The hospital was established with 625 beds but very rapidly had to be expanded to 1500 beds to meet the heavy influx of casualties. This officer worked day and night practically without rest in caring for the patients and by his efforts was instrumental in saving many lives.

His personal example of courage and devotion to duty was an inspiration to the whole staff of the hospital.
